Challenges and Recommendations

Conor Cronin Eddie Corr

REPRESENTATION

Challenge:

Ensuring broad representation, particularly across the student body.

Recommendation:

Seek fair representation: Use a variety of sources and methods of invitation across different interest groups and cohorts.

PLANNING

Challenge:

Members engaging alongside their main commitments, whether work or study.

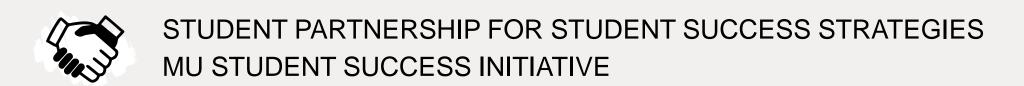

Recommendation:

Involve a variety of staff and student roles in the process at an early stage to develop ownership and responsibility.

ENGAGEMENT

Challenge:

Building trust in the process while keeping members updated and informed.

Recommendation:

Use briefing documents to aid common understanding, be clear on expectations, and feedback results to members.

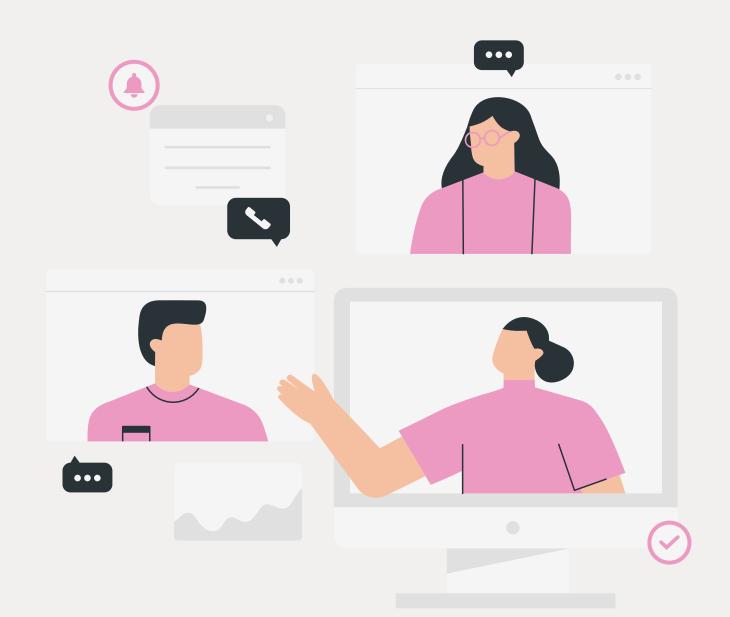

POWER DYNAMICS

Challenge:

Students are inherently at a power dynamics disadvantage for many reasons.

Recommendation:

Acknowledge from the start & encourage staff and students to co-design strategies that work for them to address the imbalance.

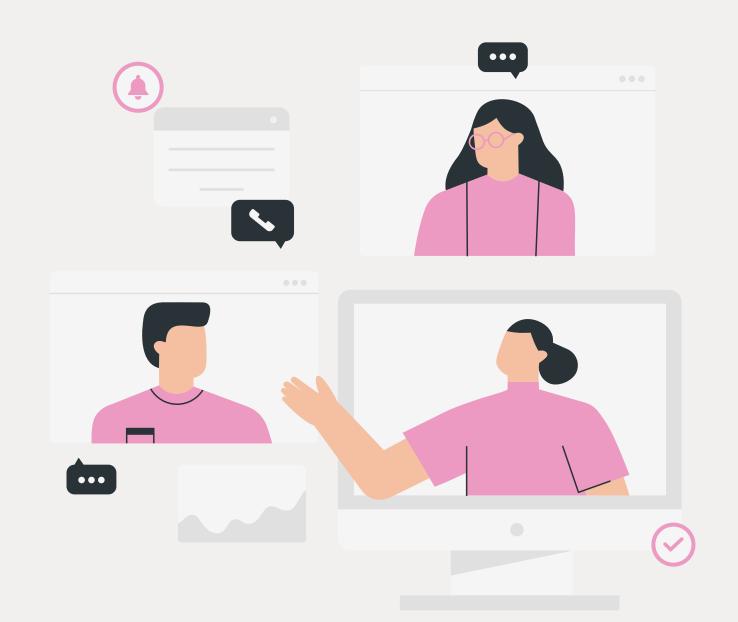

EMPOWERMENT

Challenge:

Identifying highly engaged members willing to take on extra responsibility.

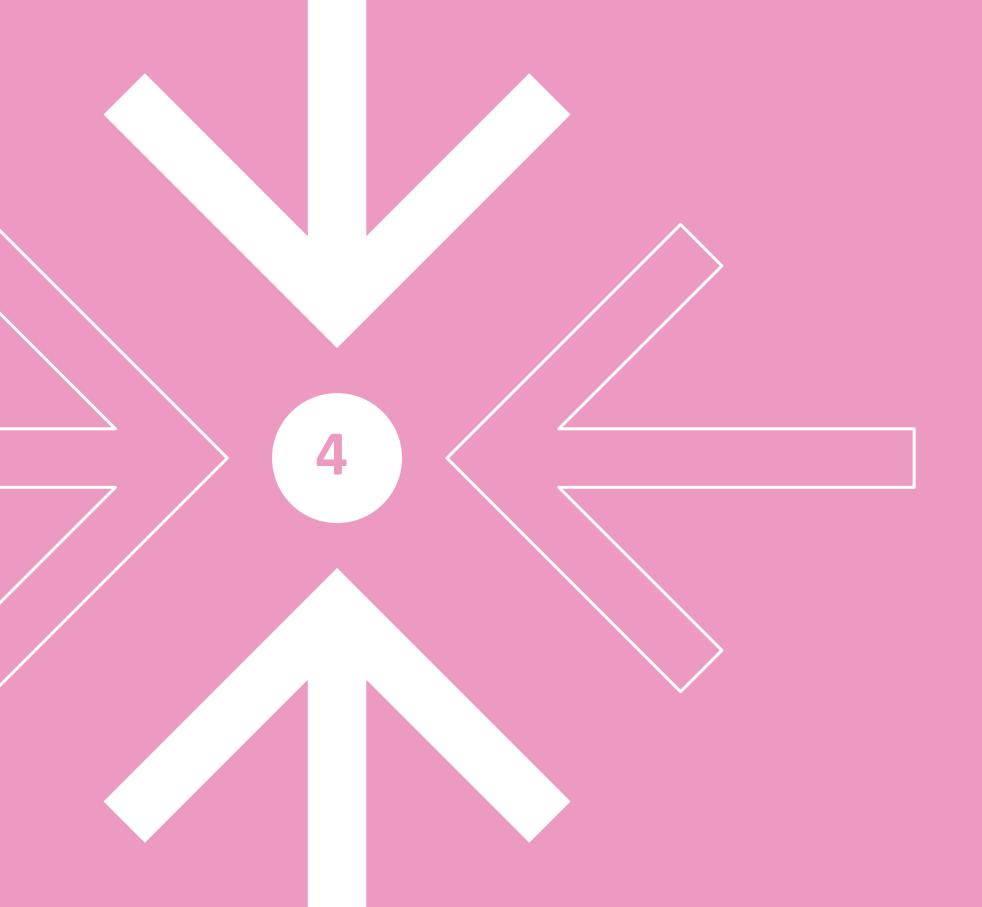

Recommendation:

Empower your members to take control of tasks within the project over time and become accustomed to leadership roles.

Diversity of Student Voice

Group Reflection and Discussion

- Discuss the following question within your group Q1. What things need to change to achieve real diversity of the student's voice in student success initiatives and policy development?
- > Rank the top two priorities for your group and present them back

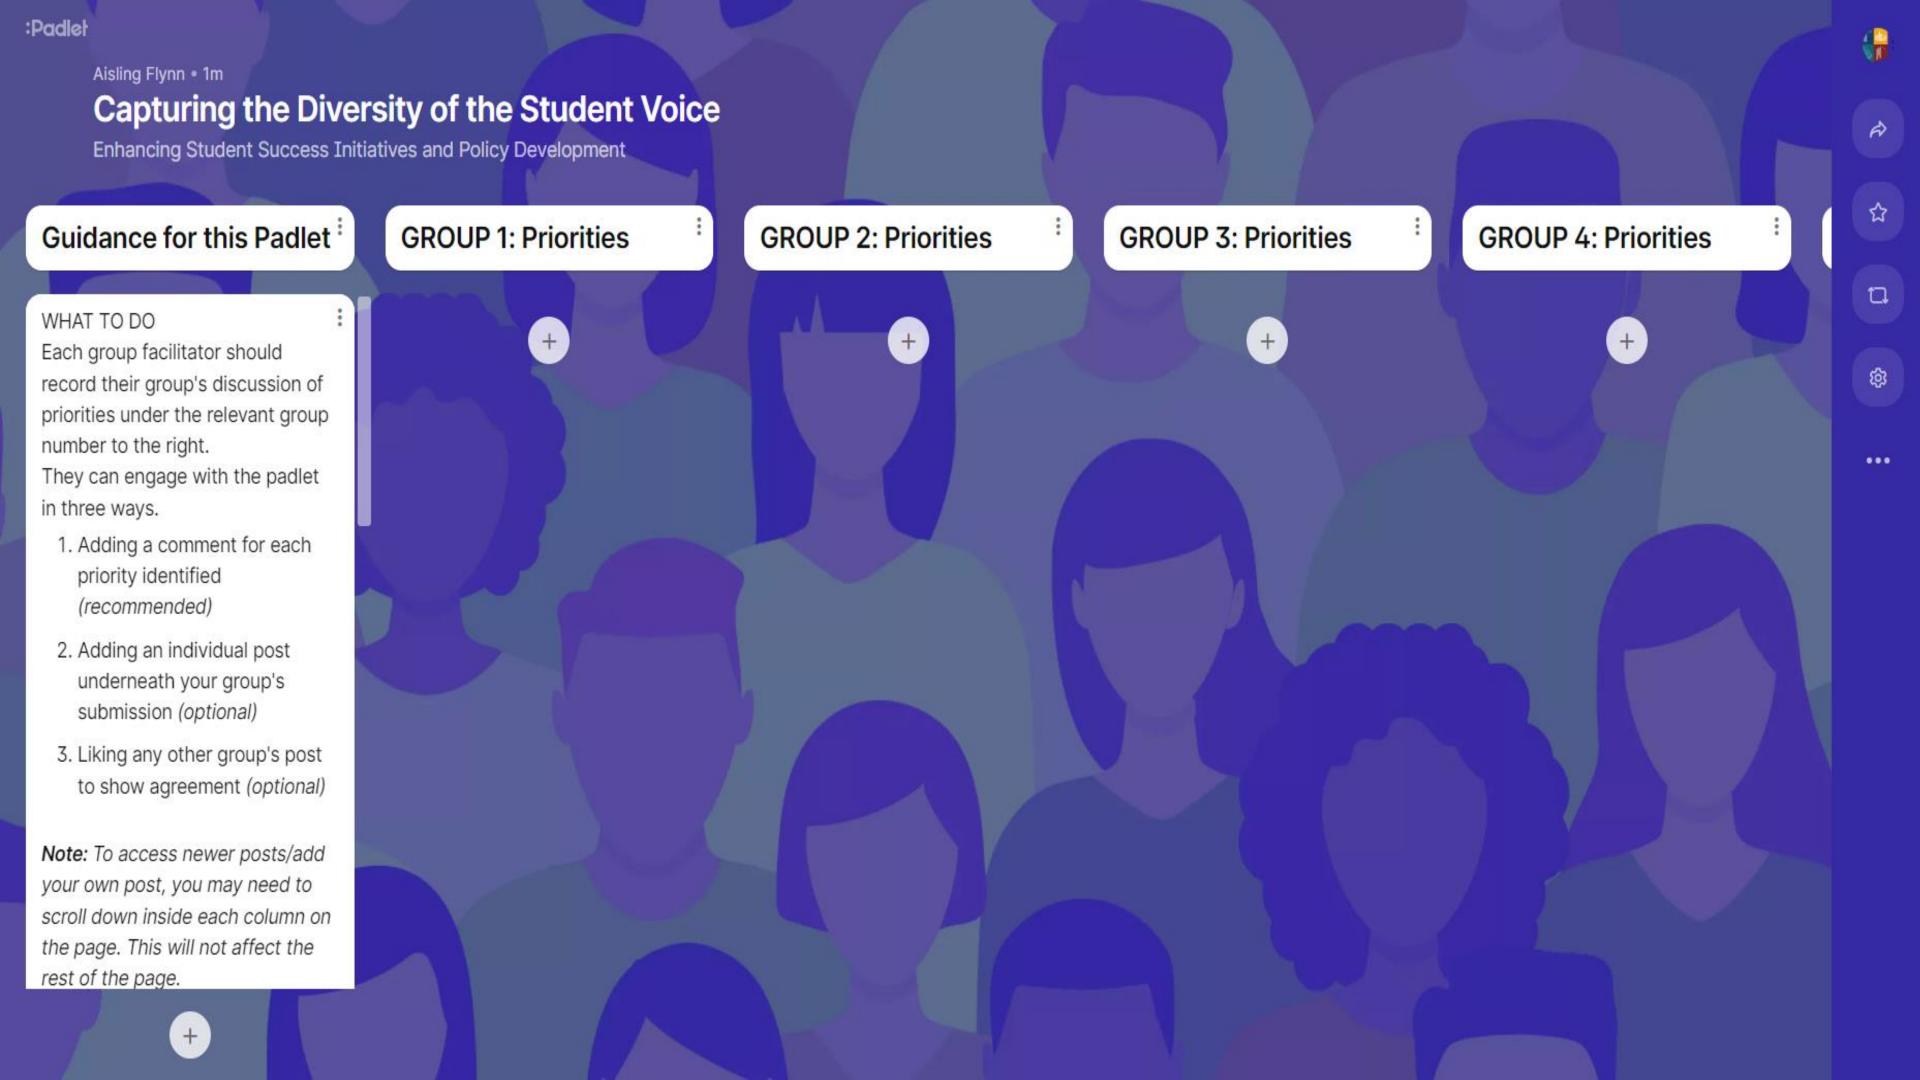

Minute Activity

- Split into mixed groups of 5-7 and introduce yourselves.
- Use the flipchart, post it notes and markers provided.
- Your assigned group facilitator will record your discussed priorities on padlet.
- Nominate one person in your group to present back your top two ranked priorities(1 minute)
